the most common and phormic faults of other makers, but one that will withstand the most critical est of the artist, and ask for it careful comparison with any Guitar made in the world. Leaving it to plead its own cause, we believe that the luster of its nerits will never be dimmed, and that every instrument will be its own best advocate.

Every Guitar bears the name of GEORGE WASH-BURN plainly burned upon the inside. None genuine without it.

The value of advertising by typewritten and autograph circulars and postal cards as an adjunct to newspapers caunot be overestimated. For this the Edison Mimeograph is unexecuted. It copies from one or artinal as many duplicates as you desire and so perfectly that it is well migh impossible to detect the difference. Let us show you what it will do.

The letters patent on Mandolins cover both the construction of the instrument and the very perfect and insensus iron form upon which they are made the latter enabling the manufacturers to make an instrument of more elegant in ode than has ever been produced; and the former assigns to them exclusively the right to make a Mandolin with ribs upon the inside instead of cloth or paper. All the resonance of the wood is preserved by their method, which permits of a free vibration of every part of the instrument, unrestricted by ritie, cloth or paper, which are invariably found in the instruments of other makers. The perfect design of the Mandolins, the beautiful and correct curve lines, the degrant finish and sweet yet powerful tone they are capable of producing, place the WASHBURN MANDOLINS at once at the head of all instruments of their class.

And justly said, but to use it well you should use the best. Our wines have ion; been conceded the best. They come direct from the famous "To-Kailon Vineyards" of California, and represent the par executence of the American ontent.

Wharton, accompanied by Sir Baden Powell, one of the Canadian agents of the commission recently in session here, called at the Executive Mansion and was accorded an interview with the President.

The presence at this time of Sir Baden Powell, who was thought to be in Canada is regarded as significant. Sir Baden Powell sails from New York for England tomorrow and the object of his visit today so far as could be learned, was to take formal leave of the President. He came here from Montreal last evening. Rumor has it that he was the bearer of some official communication from the Canadian premier on the Bering sea matter.

A counter Proposition.

A rumor that finds many believers is that Lord Salisbury has answered the President's note insisting on the necessity of a modus viof the Russian headquarters staff, the eastern army, while the remaining half will constitute the western army, under Gen. To each army will be added four note insisting on the necessity of a modus vivendi with a counter proposition that in any modus vivendi agreed upon the United States shall agree to indemnify Canadian vessel owners (poachers) for the losses incurred thereby, provided the arbitra-tors finally decide that the United States has no right to prevent pages easily. An important experiment designed to test the power of endurance possessed by the Russian infantry soldier in campaigning work during a period of intense cold has lately been made in a district near the western frontier of Russia. It was desired to discover under what degree of cold troops could camp out in tents, and for this purpose eight infantrymen were chosen at random. The snow, which lay deep on the ground, was levelled over a certain area, a tent pitched and its interior covered with mats, on which were laid fifty-six pounds of straw. The men, accoutred in heavy gray coats and Wellington boots, lay down to rest, using their knapsacks as pillows, at 9 o'clock in the evening. AUSTIN, TEXAS, March 22.-Senator Horace Chilton addressed a letter last night to a caucus of his friends announcing his withdrawal from the race for United States Senator, thus leaving the field clear to Roger Q. Senator Chilton assigns as his only reason for withdrawing that he finds the total vote of for withdrawing that he finds the total vote of his friends in the legislature will not be suffi-cient to elect him, and he does not want to em-barrass those who would stand by him. It is claimed that the election of Mills will add 50,000 votes to the third party in Texas. His supporters are sure of eighty or ninety votes on the first ballot.
